Central Virginia Wind Energy & Manufacturing

We seek to reinvest in rural America and we will advocate the formation of local capabilities and local supply of components and the assembly of such technology. We continually seek out newly developed emerging technologies and selectively support worthy designs with technical and financial resources, acting as both consultant and developers in some cases. We endeavor to work with rural communities, municipalities, tribal entities and individuals to identify alternate energy options to include Greenfield and Brownfield opportunities. We collaborate to find the core essentials of each application and support parties who have: Wind, Want and Wire . We work in a collaborative manner on all fronts including assessing impacts to the ...
